

Parliamentary Rules

Point of Order- A delegate may use this point to complain about departure from parliamentary procedure.

Point of Personal Privilege-A delegate may use this point to request permission to leave committee temporarily, be added to the speakers' list, etc.

Point of Parliamentary Inquire-A delegate uses this point to ask how specific parliamentary rules work.

Point of Parliamentary Procedure-A delegate may use this point to request specific changes to parliamentary procedure. This should be used to increase the number of comments or speaking time, and may be used to request a roll call vote.

Right of Reply-A delegate may request "the right of reply" in the instance that another delegate makes a statement that personally attacks them.